

Presents the 2010 E-Records Forum

Two exciting topics: Status of the Electronic Records Archive and Balancing Records Access and Personally Identifiable Information

Part of NARA's E-Records Forum series designed to encourage learning & dialogue about electronic records issues.

Session One:

Status of the National Archives Electronic Records Archives (ERA) Project
Megan Phillips, CRM, CA, Electronic Records Lifecycle
Coordinator, NPOL, NARA

This presentation will cover the current status of the ERA project, including accomplishments to date, remaining goals, and the target dates for deploying records management functions such as scheduling and transfer to Federal agencies and search of archival holdings to the public.

Sessions Two & Three:

Balancing Records Access & Personally Identifiable Information (PII): the NARA Perspective
Hannah Bergman, Assistant General Counsel, Office of General Counsel, NARA

Balancing Records Access & Personally Identifiable Information (PII): an Agency Perspective
Elizabeth Withnell, Office of General Counsel, Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI)

Records Management and Information Technology professionals are challenged with balancing the security of records that contain personally identifiable information while providing appropriate access to them under the Federal Records Act. Hear how NARA and one federal agency, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, have met these challenges.

Intended Audience:

Federal and non-Federal IT staff, Records Managers, Archivists, and others interested in electronic records issues.

YOU MUST REGISTER TO ATTEND: Although the Forum is free, you must register as space is limited.

To register, send an email to PHLRM.Registration@nara.gov indicating you wish to attend. Please include your name, organization, address, phone number and e-mail address. You will receive an email confirmation of your registration or notice that the session is full.
